

Sharon Foo, mummy of Jana Wong P1 Hibiscus 2017

I had the privilege of helping out at the recent CHIJ Fiesta with the group of enthusiastic parents and CPC members.

We were in charge of the "Ping Pong Craze". Egg trays were recycled and ping pong balls in a set of 5 was used. The aim of the game was basically to get the ping pong balls into the colored 'holes' in the egg trays.

It was most gratifying to see the girls enjoying themselves. Encouraging to know that even with a minimum point, the girls were still able to exchange for toys.

The grand prize which was a gift from Precious Moments was won by a secondary student who persevered when it looked so daunting after many failed attempts! She clearly demonstrated the spirit of being steady and steadfast :) Bravo!

The event was well organized by the CPC committee and I relished every moment of it :)
